

explorations

Explorations: A Journal of Language and Literature

Before you start reading...

DOI: 10.25167/EXP13.25.13.0

This is the thirteenth issue of Explorations, an academic yearly e-journal devoted to the Anglophone literature and culture. The issue starts with an interview with Professor Lyndsey Stonebridge, who discusses her We Are Free to Change the World. Hannah Arendt's Lessons in Love and Disobedience (2024), one of the most important recent books about intellectual and political activism. The journal's central section contains seven articles, mainly critical readings. In it, you will find interpretive/informative essays on authors like Neil Gaiman, David Mitchell, Toni Morrison or J. M. Coetzee (to name just a few), and another paper dealing with Roman Polanski's and Justin Kurzel's adaptations of Macbeth. The issue concludes with two short reviews.